adequate landfills, about half of which is single-use plastics example, takes over 450 years to completely which themselves will probably never completely ger pieces of plastic (called macroplastics) also tually absorb the sea water's smell, which is deceptive ns, turtles, even polar bears, can't distinguish plastic from our p to solving this problem is: ban single-use plastic from our ! This can save the lives of thousands of marine animals in he future. In our exhibition we have also show some ways to reduce or avoid plastic waste. Maybe there is something for you!
